M. H. S. - Mind, Heart, Spirit

The 8:16 bell rang, and once again a school day began at Marlinton. For the students it was a day of memorizing facts, learning language vocabularies, understanding English Literature, and solving problems. For the teachers, it was a day of trying to convey a portion of their knowledge to confused but open minds. Finally, when the day ended, weary and tired from hours of work, teacher and students went home, both having gained a little from the great storehouse of knowledge.

The anticipation and hope of a touchdown, the tingling feeling when you hear sad music, the anxiety to know whether you've done well on a test — these are sensations that every Marlinton student has experienced at one time. They are only a few examples that the student body does care — that Marlinton has a Heart.

Can you give a good definition of the spirit at Marlinton? If you stop a minute, these thoughts might enter your mind: Spirit can be seen in the happy faces at a football game when there is only a minute to go and the score is 20-7, Marlinton. It can be seen and felt at the Awards Assembly in the spring. It can be heard in these very halls every day. Spirit is pride of accomplishments you have in your school — the backing you give Marlinton whether success or failure comes.

Foreword

We, the 1965 Scenario Staff, have chosen three words — Mind, Heart, and Spirit — as the theme of this year's annual which we feel best represent Marlinton High School. Mind includes the time and energy you use in studying your subjects each day. But, how toilsome it all would seem if there were no heart and spirit! Mind alone is like a puppet waiting for someone to put life into it. Heart and spirit make us come alive, as strings move the puppet. We present M.H.S. — Mind, Heart, Spirit.

"The mind is the atmosphere of the soul."

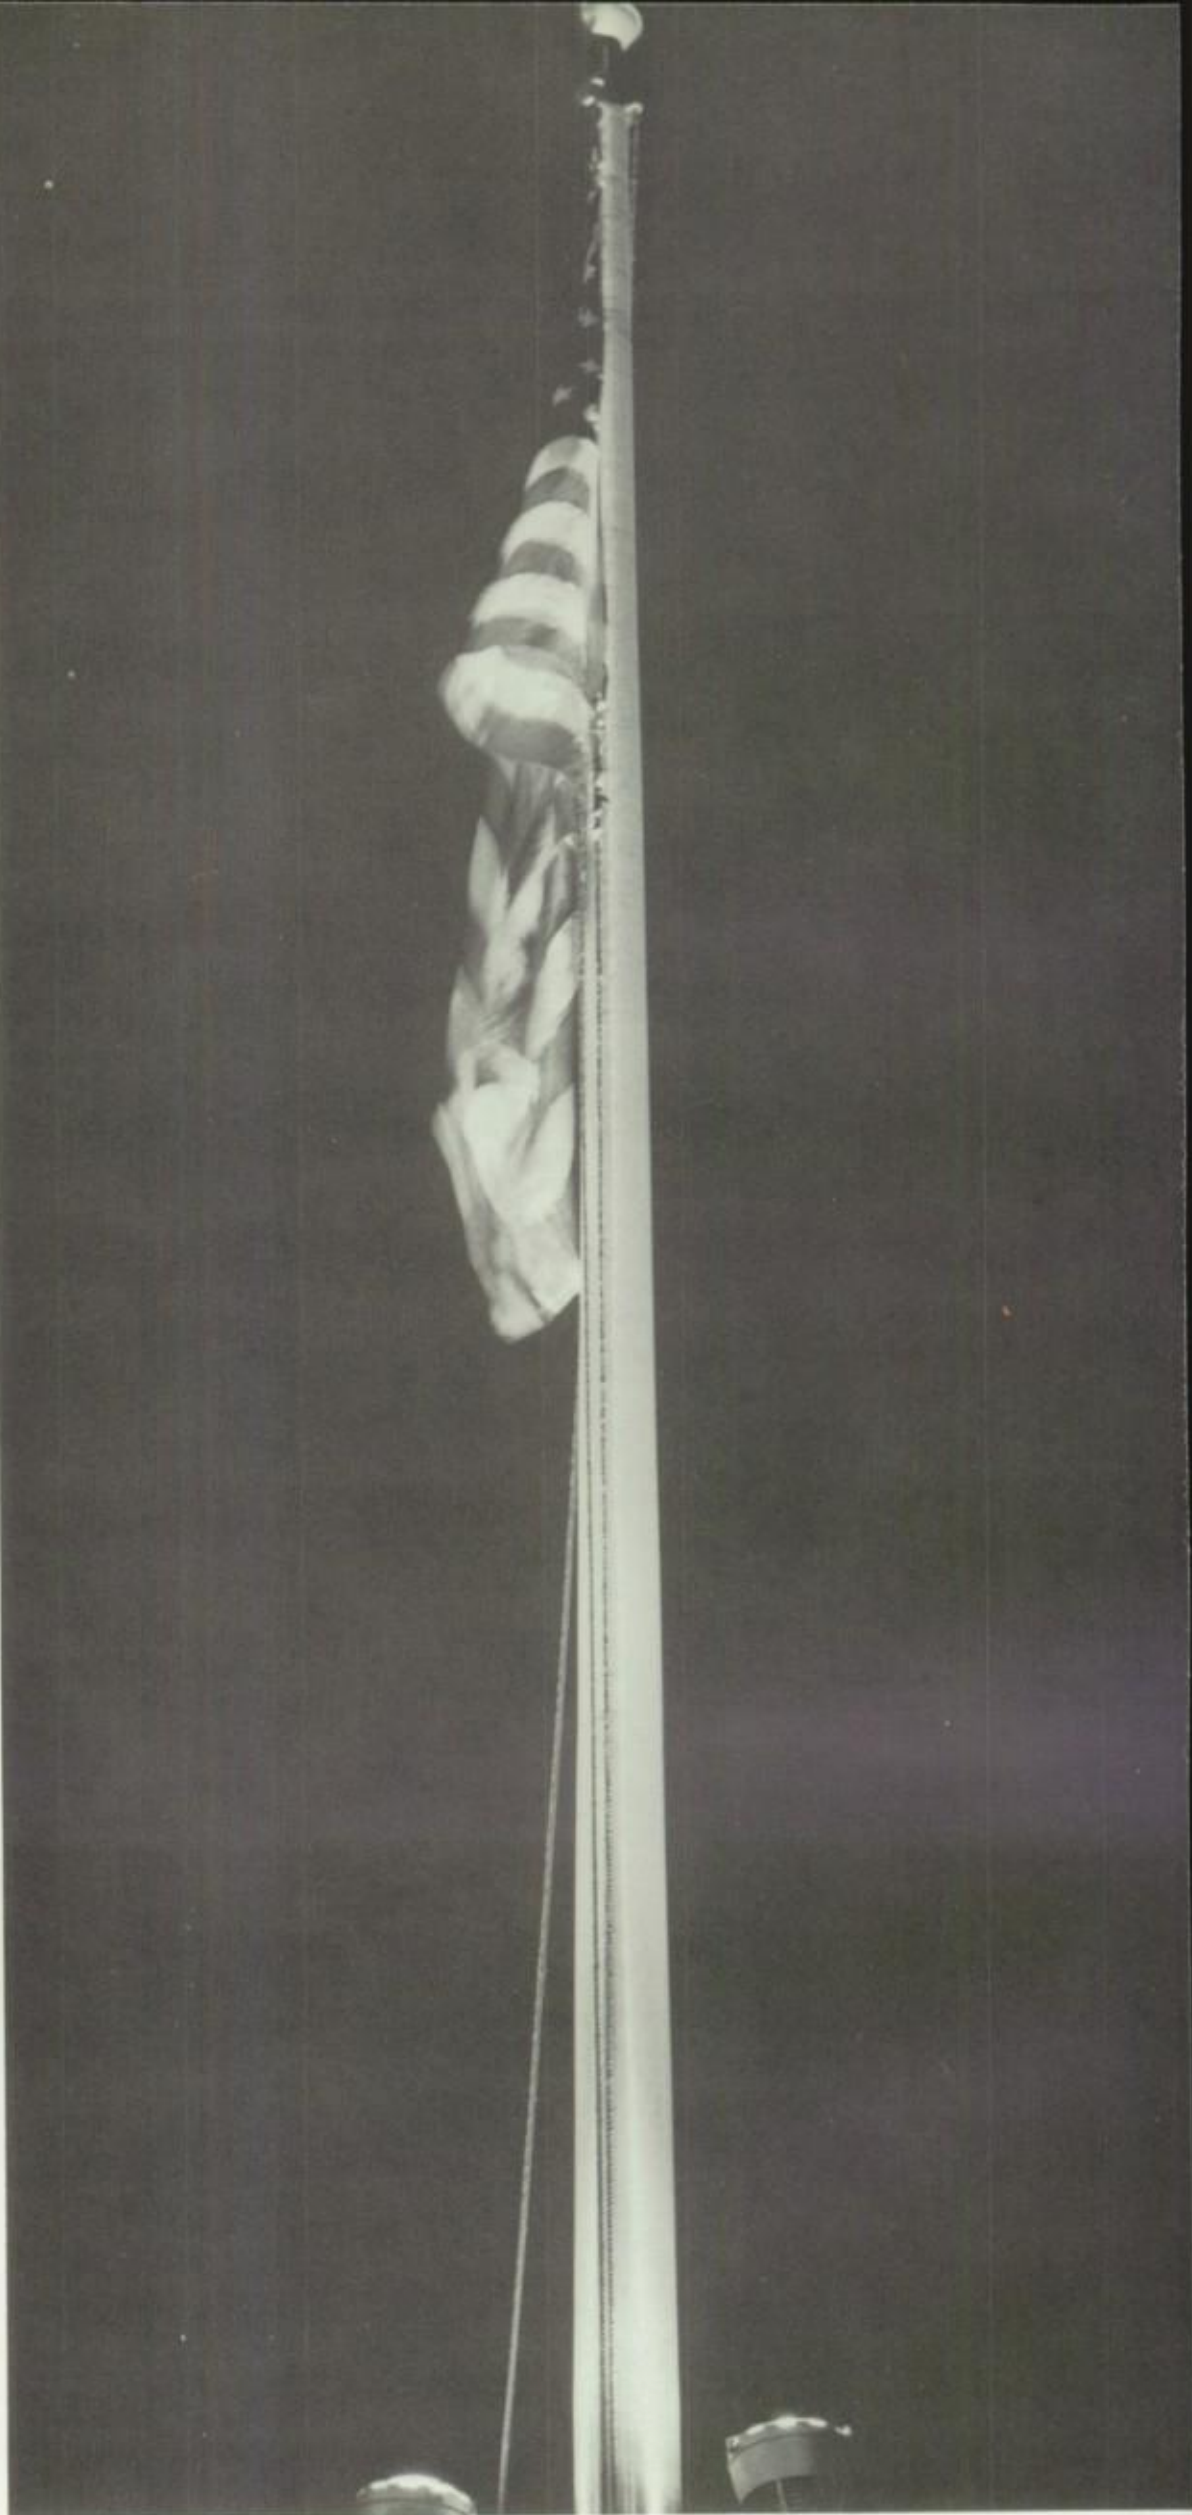

From the minds of men worlds are destroyed and built. None of us alone will ever build a world or destroy one, but the laziness, and indifference of the Romans proved that to let your mind become idle will inevitably destroy you and the world you live in. Whether you go on to school or not, it is our hope that you will go on learning and taking advantage of the intelligence given to you by our Creator.

You might think that the heart of the school is the building, but you would be wrong. If there are no students, the building is like a summer mansion waiting for its owner to come home. The teachers wouldn't have jobs, and Marlinton would close. Yes, the student body is, indeed, the heart of the school. Even though the faces and years change, students will remain the heart of Marlinton.

"What the heart has once owned and had, it shall never lose."

"To act with spirit, to speak with spirit . . ."

The spirit of Marlinton is not only discerned in "Go team, fight," but you can see it also in all the little jobs and extras done by students. The kids who decorate for a dance, the student who really studies to make the honor roll, the extra assistance a teacher gives a pupil who has been ill, the friendly "Hi" heard everywhere in the halls, and the athlete or musician who practices longer so that he will be the best, are examples of the spirits of M.H.S.

Mind, Heart, Spirit Expands

This is Marlington, a growing expanding high school. The students who are Juniors and especially Seniors will leave remembering the hammering, the nasty odors, and the darkened rooms from the new addition. It doesn't seem so long ago that as Freshmen, the present Seniors were the first to be in the new building all four years. Now the building is already too small and must expand. By next fall there will be no more auditorium study halls.

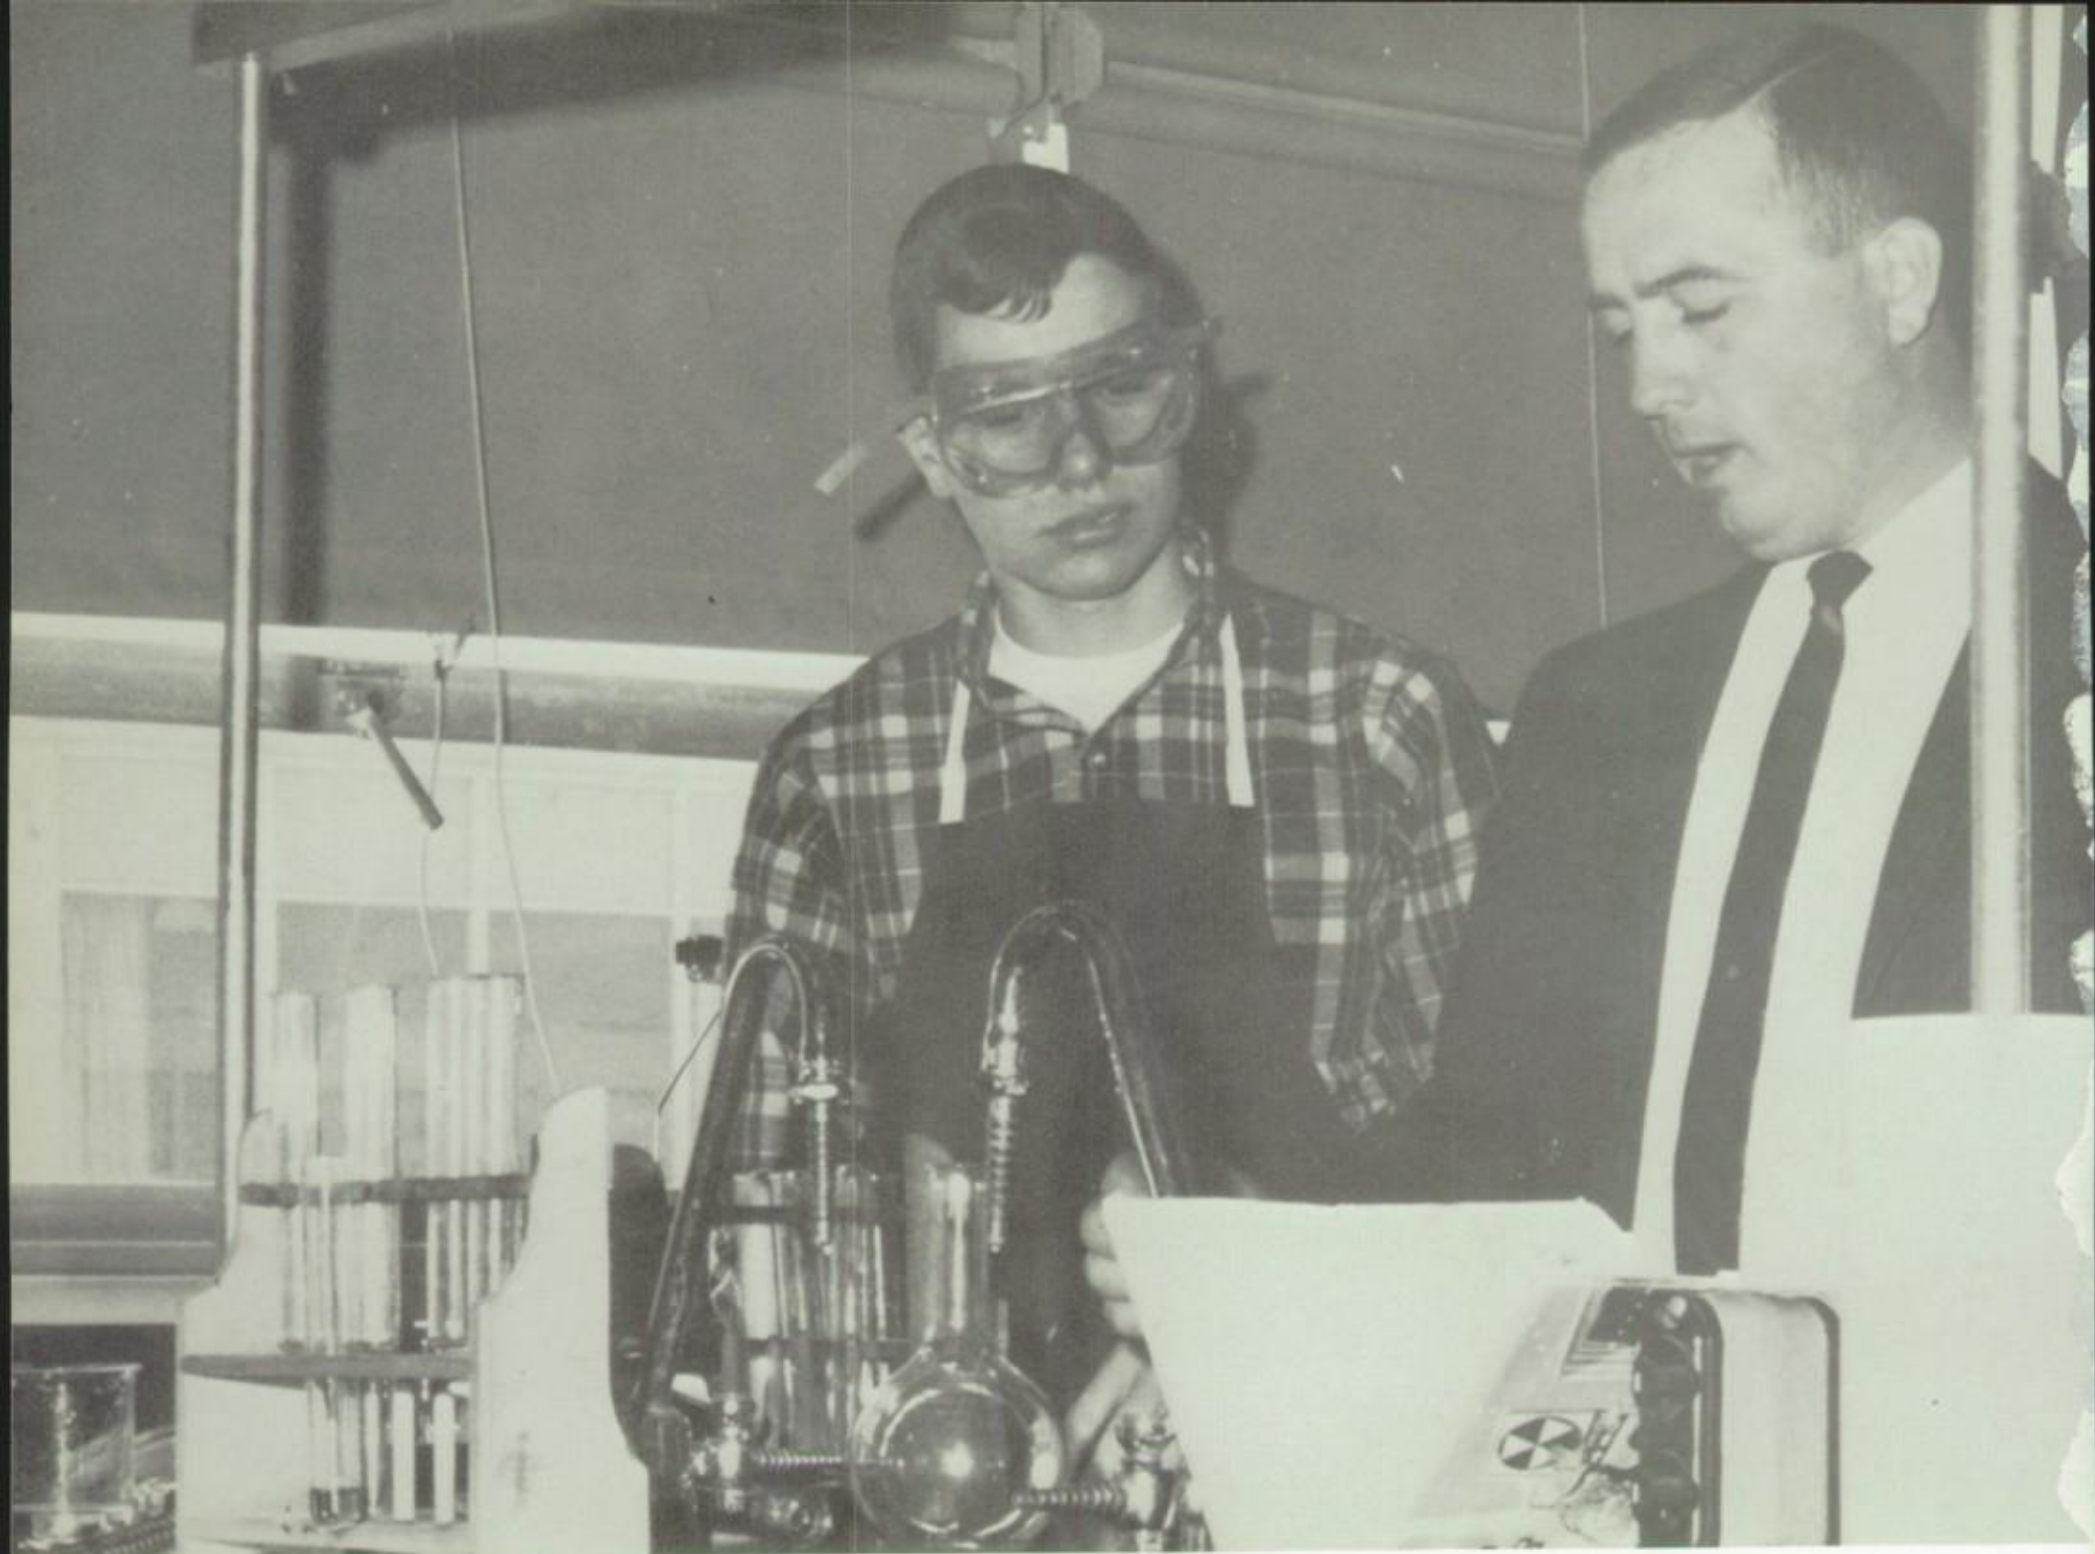

Mr. Thomas Hazen - A Tribute of Appreciation

A quiet, conservative, kindly, sincere and friendly man. This is our principal. Mr. Hazen has been at Marlinton since the beginning of the school in 1961.

His helpful advice and warm smile will be remembered by all who know him. For his many years of dedicated service, we the Scenario Staff of 1965, dedicate this annual to him.

Principal

"Marlington continues to strive for excellence. A co-operative student body working with dedicated instructors will insure the necessary educational climate for learning. Our objective is to contribute toward the needs of each student."—this is Mr. Hazen's philosophy of Marlington Education.

Our principal puts his mind, heart and spirit into his work. We can never repay with words the many hours of service he has given to our school.

Assistant Principal

When some people think about an assistant principal, they visualize a man who helps out the principal and takes over that job in the case of illness. This is true, but our assistant principal, Mr. Moore, does more than that. As well as aiding Mr. Hazen, he takes care of the morning announcements and he makes sure all students are on their best behavior at all times. In the future all of us will be very grateful to Mr. Moore for setting us in line. For all the many things he has done "beyond the call of duty" we would like to express our sincere thanks.

Executive Head

There has to be a "boss" in every school system. In the Marlinton School District this executive head is Mr. William Porter. His pleasant smile and kind words have won him many friends. His outgoing personality and vim and vigor are known by all students. For his many long hours of hard dedicated service, we thank him.

Board of Education

The Board of Education consists of five men, who are elected by the people. These men work hard and diligently to see that our school runs smoothly. They not only direct the affairs in our school, but they also take care of the three elementary schools in the Marlinton District. They make important decisions concerning the welfare of the people and carry a very heavy burden as far as responsibility goes.

Counselors guide students to future vocations

Mr. Melvin Snode

Tears, laughter, doubt, fear, success, and failures are interpreted by our guidance counselors every day. Mr. Snode and Mrs. Coulter try to solve our current problems and guide us into a challenging life work. They spend many hours counseling students and conferring with concerned parents. When questioned about the best aspect of education, they said that it was being able to associate so closely with "the most wonderful people in the whole world" and in being able to help people know themselves.

Mrs. Fern Coulter

Our counselors work side by side.

"As the sun colours flowers so does art colour life."

Fine Arts develop natural talents

To many people, especially Mrs. Bingham, and Mr. Waldeck, and Mr. Capuano, nine periods seem hardly enough time for everyone to take advantage of Marlinton's fine arts program. Music has grown, and now includes class choruses, select chorus, glee clubs, and ensembles. Many types of bands — marching band, concert band, pep band, and dance band — have appeared within the last few years. Music appreciation has been added as an elective, half-credit course. Art holds a prominent place at Marlinton. It gives students the opportunity to express their talents in creative work.

Science Teachers Stress 'Deductive Thinking'

The two most important fields in today's world, Science and Mathematics, are most challenging to the students at Marlinton. A new subject, Advanced Mathematics has topped all other "problem" subjects this year. Chemistry and Physics remain tough and Geometry is still confusing to many sophomores. The purpose of these fields is to teach students to think and to reason.

Verbs, subjects, conjunctions, interjections — these are only a few of the many parts of speech taught in English class. Students not only learn these components of a sentence, but also how to use them in themes and compositions. Literature, the other phase of English, gives students a taste of great authors and their works. With this knowledge gained in English, many students proceed to take one of our foreign languages — Spanish and Latin. Here, Mrs. Ramser and Mrs. Bender put all this knowledge to use. Students learn that the terrible "double negative" in English is permissible, even good, in Spanish; and that Latin has no definite articles as English does. A foreign language also teaches about the people and customs in that country; thus, bringing together, through education, the peoples of the world.

Home Economics improves skills in Homemaking

"I made it in sewing class," said a proud student attired in a red wool sheath. Many of our Home Ec. students have learned to make their own clothes and save money. Cakes, pies, rolls, and even dinners are turned out in the cooking class. The students also spend time in studying interior decorating, baby care, time and money management.

The phone ringing, the bosses' dictation, and receiving people are some of the jobs facing our future secretaries. The click of the typewriter pounding out important letters under the direction of a former commercial student is a familiar sound in an executive's office. Many of the basic fundamental skills of a secretary's career can be learned right here in high school if a person only takes advantage of them.

The Past, The Present, The Future . . .

A few years ago history and government were just a matter of memorizing dates, battles, and events, but now our teachers are promoting the idea of progressive education. Social Studies courses today include finding out why a battle was fought and what effect the results have on modern times. Current events are being taught in an attempt to make better educated citizens.

A new program, the Occupational Work Experience Program, was started at Marlinton High School this year, and is instructed by Mr. Pearson. The program allows students to go to school a half day and hold a job for the other half. The students have both a chance to earn money, and gain experience from these jobs. Mr. Pearson sets up the various jobs and holds a special class for these students. Grades for this subject are determined by Mr. Pearson from classwork and the people for whom the students work.

Work and Imagination Go Into Our Scenario

A pencil, ruler, layout, and an imagination—these are the tools of the Scenario Staff. Cropping, captioning, drawing, and thinking—these are the jobs of the Scenario Staff. Talking, laughing, and working—these are also a part of the Scenario Staff. Ninth period is a busy time for these students. Each one has a job; each one does it. All of the tools, work, and fun go into the book we call—Scenario.

As in years past, the Student Council continued to serve us, the students of M.H.S., to their fullest capacity. They provided us with educational programs as well as social events. This year the council took the responsibility of sponsoring the annual Christmas Dance. It proved to be a very enjoyable evening. With Mrs. Ramser as their advisor, the council has made tremendous contributions to our school. Congratulations for a job well done.

Students

Membership in the National Honor Society is recognized nationally as one of the highest honors to be bestowed on a high school student. Members are selected for their leadership, character, scholarship, and service. They not only have a responsibility to themselves and their school, but also to their classmates and their country. These members represent the qualities and standards which all M.H.S. students hope someday to attain. We are proud of these students for representing our school in such a fine organization.

Junior - Senior Prom 1964

May 9, 1964 was an important night for the Juniors and Seniors at Marlinton. For the Seniors, it was their last H.S. prom; for the Juniors, it was the first prom and the climax of two-weeks of hard work. "Hearts and Flowers" was the theme used. The scene was a street in Paris, including sidewalk cafes on each side, brightened by streetlights. At one end the band played from underneath a white gazebo, and at the other end the crown awaited the queen. Thanks to the Class of 1965 for an unforgettable evening.

Music

Seniors Recall Experiences in Music

The seniors of "65" will have many fond memories of their experiences in chorus. Seniors will remember hours of practice, evening rehearsals, the Stark Country Music Festival, the special excitement before a performance, and the many happy experiences of working together. Many friendships have been formed during the hours of rehearsal. Music is enjoyment and relaxation as well as hard work. The satisfaction of knowing that a performance has been successful is heartwarming and important to those who value their musical experiences. Many of Marlinton's students have participated in the solo and ensemble contests. It was impossible to include a picture of these students because of deadline dates, but we are including the names as follows: J. Hazen, B. Saunier, J. Scott, S. Thomas, J. Select Chorus Portrays Mind, Heart, And Spirit

Many things are demanded of a select chorus. Among these are talent, quality, expression, determination, and attention. To be successful, a chorus must be able to portray different moods: joyful, sad, romantic, or vile. Our select chorus has achieved this, and we may be proud of its members. Even though chorus is hard work, it is also a chance to express emotions through music. It is also a chance to relax after a hard morning.

Last year's select chorus spent many long hours learning and memorizing pieces for "Brigadoon". They were rewarded by a performance which was second to none. To those who participated in this production we owe our gratitude for a very interesting night's entertainment.

Memories of "Brigadoon"

In a student's junior year, the voice that was young and untrained gradually becomes more developed and mature. After two years of study, vocalizing doesn't seem nearly as hard, and singing represents fun rather than a struggle between notes. The reward for hours of scales and exercises has come. For this, we owe Mrs. Bingham our gratitude, for she has also spent hours of patience with a group that has sometimes seemed incoherent.

Now that the Sophomores have established their chorus, they may begin to blend their voices to form harmony. In order to have a successful chorus, it is necessary to blend voices. The harmony must be in perfect proportion. They may also begin to add expression to the foundation which they have set. Emphasis on tone color and enunciation must also be added. It takes a lot of hard work, but when you hear the finished product— isn't it worth it?

Freshmen Develope Musical Spirit

Now that the Freshmen have established their choruses, they may begin to develop quality in their voices. This may be done by blending voices rather than just singing. The Freshmen are beginning to show spirit in their music. This leads not only to an enjoyment of music, but also to an understanding of the content of the song. The hours spent in chorus are enjoyable and fulfilling.

Band Dance Memories . . .

"Karen Koons reigns in majesty . . ."

"Trick photos capture interest . . ."

The concert band has recently been divided into two groups: the mass band, and the select band. This allows greater opportunity for enjoyment and development. The opportunity in a group such as this is unlimited. One must learn to use his talent and determination to its fullest extent in a world where competition is strong. Our band members have applied this philosophy. The result is a group working together to accomplish unity and harmonization. During the hours of practice and performance, there is also a chance to develop long lasting friendships. This stimulates character and interest in others. We are proud of our bands for their outstanding performances.

Mr. Waldeck, band director.

Memories of routines, flags, lights, whistles, songs, and friendships will remain in the minds of the Marlinton High Marching Band for a long time to come. These are good memories of hard work and an outstanding result. For a band to produce unity, hours of hard practicing are required. Our band has had the determination to establish this unity. Multicolor flags have been included in our marching unit. These add color and zest to the band routines. This also provides openings for new members. Under the direction of Mr. James William Waldeck, the Marching Band gave unique and memorable performances during the past school year.

This was the second year for Cross-Country at Marlinton and proved to be a successful one. While capitalizing on the knowledge they gained their first season the team brought in a 5-4 record — their best effort. Ray "Dusty" Collins turned in the fastest time and a new school record of 10:58.

The team would like to thank Mr. Mashchak for his time and effort in making this year's Cross-Country season enjoyable for all who participated.

The wrestlers of M.H.S. turned in a 4-0 league record this year to capture the Stark County Wrestling crown for the second straight year. The team had a fine overall record of 7-4. This was Mr. Capuano's first year here.

A fine individual effort was given by a Junior, Tom "Homer" Haines. He placed second in the district and in so doing earned a trip to the State finals in Columbus.

We are all looking forward to another exciting season and wish the team "luck" in winning the league championship again next year.

"I feel we have gained a great deal." This is what Coach Kitzmiller said at the conclusion of his first season here at M.H.S. Though we closed the season with a disheartening record of 3-15, we can safely say that each man on the team played his best and kept us in every game. The team provided exciting evenings of entertainment for all.

PIZZAS,

PLATTERS

& PROFITS

Profits make the world of American business go 'round and 'round.

Even though they're usually a thin slice of a company's or a store's total income.

Most high school seniors think profits are about 50% of sales after taxes are paid! Actually, a pizza shop owner who, on a busy night, sells $100 worth of pizzas is lucky if he winds up with $4 or $5 profit.

And that profit doesn't all stay in the owner's pocket. He has to set aside some of it for new equipment and perhaps a bigger shop someday. Profits pay for expansion in any business. Profits create new jobs.

Every record company gambles on each new release. Duds far outnumber the hits. A company's stockholders receive only about 3% of the money you plunk down for a new record.

And manufacturers of tapered roller bearings, steel and rock bits, for instance, work hard and plan carefully ahead to earn a small percentage of profit. Then that profit must be divided up again—for new machines, new plants, new research and to pay back the stockholders who have invested their savings in a company's future.

When you think about profits, remember that even the thinnest slices have to go a long way. The Timken Roller Bearing Company, Canton, Ohio. Makers of tapered roller bearings, fine alloy steel and removable rock bits.
